

IPCC International Professional Competency Training Center Expert Consultant Roster Inclusion and Renewal Management Rules (2025)

No. R/IPCC-CONS-IRM001(2025)

I. Formulate the Purpose and Basic statement

a. Formulate the Purpose

In order to regulate the inclusion, renewal and management of the expert consultant pool and roster of the IPCC International Professional Competency Training Center (hereinafter referred to as the "IPCC Center"), to ensure the quality and credibility of the expert consultant team, and to promote the sustainable development of the IPCC Center, these rules are formulated for the expert consultants and roster leaders to know and abide by.

b. Basic Statement

The IPCC Center reserves the right to modify, interpret and improve these Rules at any time according to the actual situation. Once the Expert Consultant is included or renewed, it is deemed to have unconditionally accepted these Rules and subsequent amendments and undertakes to comply with them. The Expert Adviser shall not claim any form of accountability or claim against the IPCC Center and its staff for any amendments to these Rules.

c. Temperament

The IPCC Center expert consultants are not the labor relations of the IPCC Center's employees, the expert database and roster are only for future activities including but not limited to academic exchanges, academic forums, etc., the IPCC Center may accelerate the gathering of social resources, or if other institutions or units carry out activities, may make referrals for it. The IPCC Center's expert database and roster are "talent databases". Unless is confirmed employ by our center, IPCC Center expert consultants shall not publicly advertise their status as IPCC Center employees, mentors, professors, etc.

d. Expert Advisor Category

The IPCC Center's expert consultants are divided into the following categories, and the IPCC Center may set up subcategories and formulate corresponding qualification criteria according to actual needs:

- a) Special Expert Consultants;
- b) Accredited Expert Consultants.

II. Inclusion in the Roster

e. Basic Principles

The expert consultants of the IPCC Center should have good political quality and professional ethics, support national laws, regulations, and policies, abide by the principles of integrity and neutrality, respect the Chairman and staff of the IPCC Center, and actively maintain and enhance the reputation and influence of the IPCC Center.

f. Professional Qualifications and Business Experience

Applicants should possess corresponding professional qualifications, certifications, or extensive practical experience. The IPCC Center may set specific conditions including but not limited to language proficiency, professional background, qualifications, training experience, etc., according to different expert consultant categories. When approving applications for inclusion in the list, the responsible person must comply with the specific internal regulations of the IPCC Center, and the applicant must meet the latest requirements published on the official website when applying.

g. Introduction of Special Talents (SPCC Terms)

For outstanding talents with outstanding achievements or special contributions, the Chairman of the IPCC Center has the right to directly approve their inclusion as special or accredited expert consultants, and may waive some or all of the administrative procedures, fees, renewal assessments, etc. as appropriate.

Expert consultants who have been included in the IPCC Center's expert pool and roster have the right to directly recommend outstanding talents who meet the relevant requirements of the IPCC Center to the IPCC Center and its Chairman. Such persons shall be reviewed by the Chair of the IPCC Center or his authorized person, and the Chairman of the IPCC Center shall decide whether or not to be exempt from the relevant requirements in accordance with paragraph 1 of part g.

h. Administrative Procedures

Applicants should fill in the relevant information form in detail and submit it together with the supporting documents involved in the information form. After passing the review, relevant certificates will be issued in a timely manner and included in the list of expert consultants on the official website. The applicant shall pay the corresponding administrative fees in accordance with the regulations.

Expert consultants who are newly included or renewed into the IPCC Center's expert database and roster, after obtaining relevant certificates, should use their social resources and publicize their inclusion in the corresponding IPCC Center's expert database and roster, including but not limited to official account pushes, circles of friends, and website publicity.

III. Survival of the roster

i. Basic principles

During the period of registration of the IPCC Center Expert

Consultant, it should fully comply with these Rules and the relevant management regulations of the IPCC Center.

j. Duration

The general roster will be included for one year, subject to the declared inclusion period, and may be renewed at or before the expiration of the period.

k. Renewal

The IPCC Center will conduct a comprehensive review of the performance of the expert consultants during the inclusion period. Generally, if there are no special circumstances, the renewal will be smooth.

Whenever the duration of the term is approaching, the expert consultant should submit an application for renewal to the IPCC Center one month before in advance, and there is no application fee for the renewal application (the official website publicity fee is paid as need by self). At the same time, expert consultants should attend or assist in activities related to the IPCC Center at least three times a year.

If the renewal is successful, it shall also be announced to the public in accordance with the content of the rules.

In any of the following situations, the qualification of expert consultants will be automatically terminated:

- a) Failure to apply for renewal as required;
- b) Found guilty by an effective judgment of the judicial authority;
- c) The Chairman of the IPCC Center decides to terminate his or her qualifications for reasonable.

IV. Interpretation, Modification, Effectiveness, and Dispute Resolution

m. Interpretation and Modification

These Rules are interpreted by the IPCC International Professional Competence Training Center and its Chairman, and have the right to amend these Rules at any time.

n. Effective

These rules shall take effect from the date of publication.

o. Dispute Resolution

Any ambiguity or collaboration in these Rules shall be resolved by mutual agreement only through amicable negotiation.

Note: These rules should be a guiding document for long-term cooperation in the future.
